

My friend --

We have not met, but I have been told that you are a person of integrity and intelligence. I cannot trust those around me. I must therefore place my faith in you. I have nowhere else to turn. It may be hours or it may be weeks, but eventually they are going to find me. Inside this envelope are the clues that reveal a dark, ancient secret and a global conspiracy that spans the breadth of human history. If I disappear, you must reveal them to the world. I pray that I have made the right choice.

Read the documents.

Look at the websites.

Call the phone numbers.

Follow the clues and discover the dark secret. You may be our last hope.

Sincerely,

Joshua Ambergris
